1. Claims 1-11 are presented for examination.
2. The amendment filed on 03/17/2008 is objected to under 35 U.S.C. 132(a) because it introduces new matter into the disclosure. 35 U.S.C. 132(a) states that no amendment shall introduce new matter into the disclosure of the invention. The added material which is not supported by the original disclosure is as follows:.

Note that at block 226, the amount of time that the resource is being held/used is determined without considering whether a transaction(s) is performed using the resource (i.e., with activity) or not (i.e., without activity) in the period of holding. In addition, whether the resource is being used for a single transaction or multiple transactions also does not affect the determination of the amount of use/holding time, the preset allowable time for the use, or the comparison. To this extent, at block 226 the amount of time a resource has been used may equal to the accumulation of the periods of all transactions (activities) and the period(s) of non-activity between the beginning time and the present time.

Applicant is required to cancel the new matter in the reply to this Office Action.

3. Applicant can file a continuation-in-part application to introduce the new matter into the disclosure of the invention for further consideration.
4. The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.
5. Claims 1-11 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the written description requirement. The claims contains subject matter which was not described in the original specification in such a way as to reasonably convey to one skilled in the relevant art that the inventor(s), at the time the application was filed, had possession of the claimed invention. applicant claims "a system which identifies whether the remote client is no longer using resources at the server, including determining a combination of whether the resources have been held by the remote client cumulatively for multiple transactions for a period longer than a first preset threshold and whether the resources have been held by the remote client without use of the resources for a period longer than a second preset threshold;" however, the original specification does not describe the claimed invention.
